How to use these mini-books

This set of mini-books will help your students remember vocabulary you have already explored in your classes.

The mini-books include simple vocabulary and pictures. This set can be used as "pictionaries" to support your units.

The pages in the book are not numbered. This is to make it easy for you and your students to change the order and tailor it to your class time.

Some of the mini-books might have more vocabulary than what you would like to teach, so feel free to remove the vocabulary you don't want.

I have included a blank page in case you would like to add more vocabulary so you have the right size for the mini-pages.

Your students just need to cut the pages, staple them together, and color the books. Then send them home for students to practice, or keep them in your classrooms for students to use as a resource to return to when they need to remember vocabulary.
